MARIO SILVA ATTACKS ORVEX IN “LA HOJILLA”, A PRO-CHAVEZ TALK SHOW ON OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT TELEVISION

Mario Silva attacks the Organization of Venezuelans in Exile "ORVEX" in his TV Program "La Hojilla" ("Razor Blade"), in early March 2007.

About two months later, this Host from the Venezuelan State TV Station violated the Vienna Convention by disclosing confidential information about U.S. Diplomats in Venezuela. The U.S. Department sent a complaint to the Venezuelan Government, but it was neither answered nor taken into consideration.

Venezuela is taking the highway to Communism, and the World still believes that Hugo Chavez is a Democrat

NOTE:

There is an involuntary mistake in the video since it mentions “Geneva Convention” when the correct phrase is “Vienna Convention”

The Razor Blade

You know, that I remember, when we were in ... and waving that flag up there and I remembered that our flag, our three colored, eight star flag cannot continue to be pierced by the little American flag.

Look at this.

Just like the Cuban-American Foundation there are a bunch of wanderers who pulled out what I have here: ORVEX. Pay attention: Our flag with the American flag because they cannot live without the American flag. And when they write ORVEX which means "Organization of Venezuelans in Exile" these persons put the following:

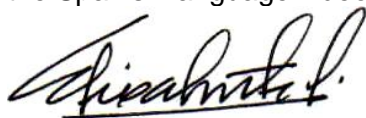

What do you think about it?

Yellow, blue and red, seven stars 'cause they do not recognize the eighth. And the American flag here, in the words "EX". Do you see? What do you think about this? Then, this is when you say: "My flag is my flag". "My flag does not go with the American flag next to it". My flag is mine!

Chavez said it not too long ago. In the future we will thank the Cuban people very much and above all to those five Cuban heroes who are being accused of terrorists when their role in the United States was to avoid terrorism. Soon, we will be making a special program with the five Cuban heroes, in another time.

Ah, by the way. Patricia Poleo is part of that ORVEX so you can see how those Venezuelans in Exile live. "In Exile", in quotation marks. They issued a communiqué by which they do not recognize the Bolivarian Government. Here it is, a communiqué which we will later read calmly. They declare that the current Venezuelan Government is illegitimate and usurping.

Ja! Yes, yes... Carmona's Government was legitimate.

But, what a thing, money... that despicable money... true? Here it is. Look. Inside their Organization of Venezuelans in Exile, they have their expenses. Do you understand me? Payroll expenses: US$ 3,296, and so forth. Total expenses: US$ 11,500. And, later, they have...

[Voice:] "Those are in exile"

Yes, those in exile are without employment. Aren't they? And later they placed a form for you to get registered, and to give a donation. I think that I have it around here. For you to donate ... here... on the back? On the back!... yes yes yes yes... It is around here... Where is that little form? A form so you donate a minimum of US$ 10. Je, je, je, je ... in the United States ... eh?

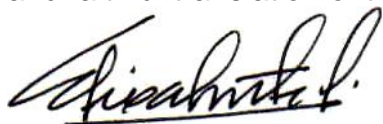

And, and... what is worst. I have a little video somewhere, in which the "Papo", Patricia Poleo, said:

"If I were you, I sit in that Highway until the government falls"

You'll wait until 2021, Patricia. You are going to sit down in the highway and I tell you, soon it is going to be hot. See what you're going to do with your butt cheeks. [laughs] Your butt cheeks are going to get burned over there. [Laughs]

That's in case you come, because you ask them to do it.

Impact of ORVEX In the Non Violent Struggle of Venezuela

Press Conference

Eva Golinger:

“...Freedom House is a nongovernmental organization which is financed by the U.S. State Department and it works with opposition members in Venezuela”

(Friday, May 25, 2007)

Eva Golinger:

“And it is supporting destabilization plans for the weekend. How? Well, Freedom House is headed by Peter Ackerman. And he replaced the former Director of the C.I.A. James Woosley, who was the President of Freedom House. So, you now have an idea of what Freedom House is. And, they are supporting this:”

ORVEX'S www.ruedalo.org

Eva Golinger:

“STOP IT!!! 9 years of Dictatorship are enough. And they make a call for... Saturday, May 26... This is what is appearing now in the Internet, calling for violence for the weekend to end the dictatorship. The same "guarimba", as they usually do. But this group, with the fist, is related to OTPOR, which manage to overthrow the Government in Ukrania... I mean in Yugoslavia to overthrow Milosevich. And OTPOR, which is directly connected to another entity called the International Center for Non Violent Struggle, which is managed by Peter Ackerman, the Director of Freedom House. They directly collaborate here and with another entity of Venezuelans in Exile, ORVEX, which works with another entities of Peter Ackerman. And they are supporting these calls for destabilization here through another entity also, the Albert Einstein Institution. But regarding this, I will be preparing more information later.”

"Look at this".

(Saturday, May 26, 2007)

"That sound was being broadcasted by GLOBOVISION, and tomorrow we will be showing a video, of course. Here you have a web page: RUEDALO. This webpage belongs to ORVEX, the Organization of Venezuelans in Exile".

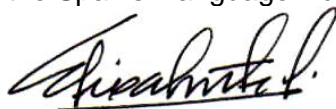

Eva Golinger:
"... a sample of different connections, and taking different symbols, using the same fist that is being used by OTPOR, the group from Yugoslavia that overthrew Milosevich with a great help from the State Department".

Mario Silva:
"It seems that they want to apply the same script here in Venezuela, but with great differences.

Eva Golinger:
"That script has been applied in Georgia and Ukrania with a lot of success. They tried it in Bielo-Russia, but it did not work. They have been trying it here ...

"The Albert Einstein Institution, which works here too. In their last bulletin, they have a section on Venezuela in which they point out that they have sent two persons from OTPOR to work with Venezuelans. And that they have carried out workshops in the U.S. and Venezuela. The Albert Einstein Institution, headed by Gene Sharp, who is the founder of this concept, about changing Governments with a non violent appearance. He, during 2003 and 2004, worked with Robert Alonso in the GUARIMBAS, and right now he [Gene Sharp] works for ORVEX. It is proven in the same webpage of ORVEX".

Hugo Chavez (reading):

"...soft and cunning Coup d'état. The Albert Einstein Institution. Nonviolence, according to the CIA. For the last 15 years, the CIA uses it to overthrow recalcitrant governments, without provoking international indignation. For this, it uses an ideological facade: The Albert Einstein Institution, of the Philosopher, Gene Sharp. This institution enjoys financing from the United States Peace Institute, and it organizes seminars to train allies in the defense through Civilian Disobedience before an occupying communist".

Hugo Chavez (talking):

"Here, they are using the same name: "RESISTANCE", and the same symbol: "A LITTLE FIST". An open little fist. The same symbol".

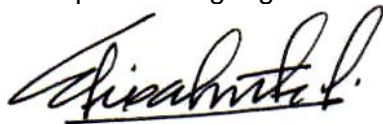

"... that we are impressing to our fatherland. Look at the symbol... Where is the camera? Look at it... I do not have a little pencil around here. Here it is. Pay attention to the symbol of OTPNOT. This is in Serbian. Serbia 2001. OTPOR Symbol. Resistance. Look at the Fist. Focus closer, to see it better. This little drawing, which is a fist. And look at here now. Venezuela 2007. Look at it. The same symbol".

Closing Comment of the Video

Since August of 2006, ORVEX has been promoting the use of nonviolent techniques, so Venezuelans could learn them and apply them in the struggle for Terrorists of Miami say they will send supplies to Venezuelan “students”

ABN 06/04/2007

Caracas, June 04. ABN.- “We are opening roads to send supplies from the United States, as well as moral support and non-violent struggle technology”, Elio Aponte stated today, a supposedly leader of a terrorist group of Miami, known as Organization of Venezuelans in Exile (Orvex).

Orvex, a group that copies the models and discourses from terrorist organizations from Cubans in Miami, has been recently known in Venezuela for its website: ruedalo.com, in which an ultimatum has been presented to President Chávez to end his term in office, under threats of carrying out violent actions in Venezuela.

In the communiqué, which can also be read in another website from the Venezuelan opposition, megaresistencia.com, Aponte finally confirms the intervention of the United States in the internal affairs of Venezuela, by stating that “this non violent struggle has its techniques and strategies, which we have received from the Albert Einstein Institution”.

Aponte also states that they do not want to be the “Oscar Perez” of the Resistance, referring to one of the opposition individuals with more links to violent happenings against the Bolivarian Revolution.

“We in Orvex are in the rearguard and we are opening roads to send supplies from the United States, as well as moral support and non-violent struggle technology. We even have the way to send supplies that are being urgently requested by the students in Venezuela for this non-violent struggle without the Government noticing it”, Aponte stated in his letter without making any specific reference to any “non-violent struggle” technologies.

In the midst of regrets, because his posture was supposedly misunderstood, Aponte explains his vision about the strategy to follow and he explains “that’s the idea, to challenge and challenge, to resist, not only in Venezuela but at the international level, with the electoral fraud, to show the world that the current tenant of Miraflores is a usurper and unlawful President”.

“The non violent war has been declared”, Aponte stated before referring to Chavez with an expression of racism, to later reaffirm his threats: “now he has to take what is coming to him, as I stated in the ultimatum video”.

Terroristas de Miami dicen que enviarán suministro a «estudiantes» venezolanos

Caracas, 04 Jun. ABN.- «Estamos abriendo caminos para enviar suministros desde los Estados Unidos, así como apoyo moral y tecnología de lucha no violenta», dijo hoy Elio Aponte, supuesto dirigente de un grupo terrorista de Miami, conocido como Organización de Venezolanos en el Exilio (Orvex).

Orvex, un grupo que copia los modelos y discursos de las organizaciones terroristas de grupos cubanos en Miami, ha sido recientemente conocido en Venezuela por su sitio web: ruedalo.com, desde donde se ha presentado un ultimatum al Presidente Chávez para que cese en su mandato, bajo amenazas de realizar acciones violentas en Venezuela.

En la misiva, que puede leerse en otro de los sitios web de la oposición venezolana, megaresistencia.com, Aponte termina por corroborar la intervención de Estados Unidos en los asuntos internos de Venezuela, al afirmar que «esta lucha no violenta tiene sus técnicas y estrategias, las cuales hemos recibido del Instituto Albert Einstein».

Aponte también señala que no quieren ser el "Oscar Pérez" de la resistencia, refiriéndose así a uno de los personajes de la oposición más vinculado a hechos violentos contra la Revolución Bolivariana.

«Nosotros en Orvex estamos en la retaguardia y estamos abriendo caminos para enviar suministros desde los Estados Unidos, así como apoyo moral y tecnología de lucha no violenta. Incluso, ya tenemos como enviar insumos que nos piden a gritos los estudiantes en Venezuela para esta lucha no violenta sin que el Gobierno se entere», dice Aponte en su carta sin hacer referencia alguna a tecnologías específicas de "lucha no violenta".

En medio de lamentaciones, porque supuestamente su postura no habría sido entendida, Aponte explica su visión sobre la estrategia a seguir y explica que «esa es la idea, desafiar y desafiar, para resistir, no sólo en Venezuela sino a nivel internacional, con lo del fraude electoral, para demostrarle al mundo que el actual inquilino de Miraflores es un usurpador e ilegítimo».

«Se ha declarado ya la guerra no violenta», sostiene Aponte antes de referirse a Chávez con una expresión racista, para luego reiterar sus amenazas: "ahora que se atenga a la debida consecuencia, tal y como lo expresé en el video del ultimatum».

ORGANIZATION OF VENEZUELAN ABROAD (ORVEX)

Extremist and rightist political group located and founded in Miami on April 11, 2005 by some counter-revolutionary, self-exiled, Venezuelans in Miami. This organization which proclaims to be a social NGO is dedicated to carry out destabilizing and coup-promoting actions against the Bolivarian Revolution. They have promoted the overthrow and murder of President Hugo Chavez and frequently meet with the most reactionary congressmen and senators of the United States, such as Ileana Ros-Lehtinen, Connie Mack and Lincoln Diaz-Balart, to promote different bills to condemn the Venezuelan Government. They also work to create and promote negative and distorted opinion matrixes along with U.S. media, specially the Miami Herald and local TV channels of the State of Florida. The “copeyano” (member of the COPEI political party) businessman Elio C. Aponte is the president of this organization, and its members are well know personalities of the most extremist and violent sector of the Venezuelan opposition, such as Patricia Poleo and Orlando Urdaneta.

ORVEX is also linked to the Albert Einstein Institution (AEI) which has advised it about Soft Coup techniques during the presidential elections of December 2006.

[Translation of the paragraph that is marked with an oval at the bottom of page 15 of the book]

With this book, we also launch the Center of Alert for the Defense of the Peoples, as an space for the combat to keep us informed about new strategies and tactics of meddling and subversion, and their application against us. And we made a call to join our efforts and knowledge to fight what we perceive as a collective aggression against all defiant peoples in which we resist the imperialistic impositions.

revolucionarios de América Latina. Queremos demostrar que esa agresión no cesa simplemente porque un hombre de distinto color ocupa la posición de mando en Washington – más bien, como verán en las siguientes páginas, las amenazas imperiales se están intensificando y el peligro crece cada día.

Las palabras de Kissinger nos indican la razón detrás de esta escalada de agresiones contra América Latina. Si ya no dominan al sur de su frontera, ¿cómo mantendrán su dominación mundial?

En un mundo multipolar, no hay imperios. La integración latinoamericana significa la decadencia del imperio estadounidense, y esa gran bestia peleará con toda su fuerza hasta el último momento.

Pensamos que hay una urgencia para alertar a los pueblos frente a lo que vemos es una nueva etapa —más peligrosa— de injerencia. El smart power (poder inteligente) de la administración Obama/Clinton ha logrado bajar la guardia de los pueblos, y hasta algunos piensan que por haber ganado el Premio Nobel de la Paz Obama estará obligado de construir la paz mundial. Mientras tanto, las bombas caen con más frecuencia sobre Afganistán, la guerra continúa en Irak, Pakistán e Irán están en la mira, América Latina recibe “siete puñales en el corazón”, como calificó el comandante Fidel Castro a las bases militares del Pentágono en Colombia, la subversión y contrainsurgencia aumentan, y dentro de Estados Unidos, crecen la miseria, el desempleo, la pobreza y la represión.

Con este libro, también lanzamos el Centro de Alerta para la Defensa de los Pueblos, como un espacio de combate para mantenernos informados sobre las nuevas estrategias y tácticas de injerencia y subversión, y su aplicación contra nosotros. Y hacemos un llamado para unir a nuestros esfuerzos y conocimientos para combatir lo que percibimos es una agresión colectiva contra todos los pueblos desafiantes que resistimos las imposiciones imperiales.

Noam Chomsky dijo que la integración “es una condición previa para la independencia; si están separados los van a atacar uno a
